

SMP Logic Systems Announces Registration of Renovatio Trademark

SANTA MONICA, CA, August 04, 2009 – SMP Logic Systems, a research based software development company focusing exclusively on pharmaceutical manufacturing industries, announces today that its Renovatio Trademark has registered on the United States Patent and Trademark Office Principle Register as registration No. 3,663,088. The trademark was registered in Class 009 for “Downloadable computer programs for process and systems monitoring in the field of pharmaceutical manufacturing”.

Renovatio is a fully-integrated system that manages every step of the pharmaceutical manufacturing process from raw materials receipt to the final drug product. Renovatio covers the key aspects of pharmaceutical manufacturing including comprehensive process and system management, master batch records, process execution, continuous real-time quality monitoring, historical tracking, anti-counterfeiting measures, product pedigrees, failure analysis, risk-based assessments, and real-time reports to business units.

About SMP Logic Systems

SMP Logic Systems is a research based software development company focusing exclusively on pharmaceutical manufacturing industries. Its products aim to revolutionize pharmaceutical manufacturing processes and systems allowing manufacturers to fully integrate process controls. SMP Logic Systems offers several platform technologies that enable pharmaceutical manufacturers to monitor and track the entire manufacturing process from inception to completion. The Company's offices are located in Santa Monica, CA. For further information about SMP Logic Systems, please visit www.smplogicsystems.com

Contacts

SMP Logic Systems
ATTN: Press and Marketing Director
2804 Sixth Street
Santa Monica, CA 90405
info@smplogicsystems.com

Renovatio® – is a registered trademark of SMP Logic Systems LLC